

Analyst/Developer - Medior

Function type: Freelance - Vast Location: Brussel
Duration: Longterm Reference: 202007969

Description:

Our client is looking for a PHP & Python Developer

Role Description:

For a large environment, you would be responsible for writing a frontend/backend application on top of FreeIPA to automate and add user-friendly UX.

The application would be written in Python/Flask, Perl, PHP, LAMP stack. So understanding of how REST API works is a must.

Git understanding would also be a plus for code revision.

A Linux background is preferable and a basic understanding of how Kerberos works is a plus.

Main Tasks:

Design & build robust, performant and high scalable, flexible solutions with a focus on customer experience

Required Responsibilities:

- Participate to the technical design of the solution based on business requirements gathered and analyzed by team analysts.
- Act as an active team member to ensure high code quality (unit testing, regression tests,) delivered in time and within budget.
- Document the delivered code/solution
- Perform development testing
- Participate to the implementation of the releases following the change & management processes
- Provide solutions (bug fixes,) for problem mgt.

Requirements:

Degree & Experience:

- 5y in software development
- experience in a telecommunication environment is an asset

Technical skills:

- Python
- API programming (flask, ...)
- Perl
- Ansible

- LDAP
- Kerberos
- FreeIPA
- Linux
- DNS

Languages:

Fluent English

Start: 2020-04-05 22:00:00